

Brandon S. Harter

Brandon Harter joined Russell, Krafft & Gruber, LLP in 2016 after several years with the former Lancaster firm of Hartman, Underhill & Brubaker where he began his career in private practice. Prior to that, Brandon served as a Clerk to the Honorable A. Richard Caputo, District Judge, Middle District of Pennsylvania. He is a 2006 magna cum laude graduate of Dickinson College and a 2009 honors graduate of William & Mary School of Law, Order of the Coif, Order of the Barristers.

Brandon provides counseling and guidance on matters relating to Business Law, Municipal Law and Civil Litigation, with a particular focus on the intersection of law and technology. His practice includes cost-effective litigation in the federal and Pennsylvania Courts, including eDiscovery solutions tailored to the nature of each dispute. Outside the litigation arena, Brandon's practice regularly includes drafting of technology related agreements, such as IT service agreements, software licenses and document retention policies. Brandon also advises municipal organizations on a variety of issues and provides general business counseling. Brandon's unique experience and perspective is invaluable to his clients on the privacy, data security and social media issues which increasingly arise for both private businesses and public entities.

Brandon has served on the Board of Landis Valley Associates for several years, and is currently serving as Board President. Brandon resides in Mountville with his wife, Cassandra, and their four children.
