

Kathleen Krafft Miller

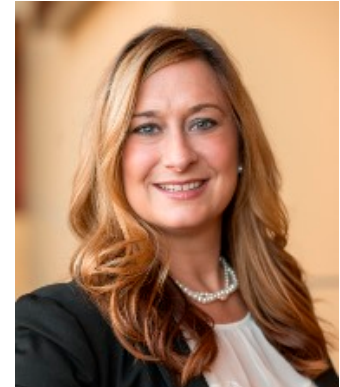

Kathleen Krafft Miller began her legal career with Russell, Krafft & Gruber, LLP as a law clerk in 2015. She worked in marketing for ten years at a local hospital before attending law school. She obtained her B.A. in Psychology and Criminal Justice in 2002 from Temple University.

Kathy is a 2015 cum laude graduate of Widener University Commonwealth Law School. During law school she was a member of the Widener Journal of Law, Economics and Race, serving as Article Editor. She also completed an externship with the Honorable Margaret Miller of the Lancaster County Court of Common Pleas.

Kathy concentrates her practice in Family Law, Estate Planning and Civil Litigation. Her goal is to help her clients always receive the best possible outcome. She works with individuals and families to help them navigate through simple or complex legal matters in a manner that is least disruptive to their daily lives and allows for a smoother transition.

Kathy is a proud Ephrata native and currently resides in East Petersburg with her husband, daughter and step-son.

Did you know? Kathy was a competitive gymnast and once beat Dominique Dawes, who later became a member of multiple US Olympic teams.
